

Volunteer to Help Create and Build New Business(es)

Entrepreneur seeking volunteers to help create, build and grow a self-sustaining for-profit investment holding company.

This is an initiative to help create several new self-funded business start-ups (think create jobs) using volunteers and the power of the web. I anticipate Company A to be domiciled in Delaware and its principal headquarters office to be located in Georgia. Locations of operating subsidiaries will be confined to the continental United States.

Pretty much anyone interested in helping can get involved in creating and building the business (es), regardless of your location. No experience or particular skills are necessary. I just need people with some extra time who are willing to help!!! Volunteers will be asked to promote awareness of the business start-up and promotional events across the Internet and also volunteer business advice, help avoid common mistakes, provide direction, and provide support in tackling problems and finding solutions. All I ask is that you be dependable, serious, committed and bring lots of enthusiasm and passion to the project.

Please note that volunteers will not be paid for their help.

I am not looking for investors.

If you recognize the Company A business model, that's a big plus.

If you are interested in volunteering, you can simply email me at StartCompanyA@gmx.com with "Startup 2009 Volunteer" in the subject, or click on the Join Now button on the home page.

Please join me in making this project a success. Your help in spreading the word about the Start Company A project would be greatly appreciated. I have included a Share button on the home page to make it easy to share the site with friends and colleagues. Thanks in advance.
